

SPRIGHTLY

Session of Central Committee Held at St. Mary's Hall.

President McGinn Named Men to Look After Special Work.

Delegates Decide to Stand By Ruling of Supreme Officers.

A BIG BENEFIT IS ARRANGED.

The Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America held a sprightly and important session at St. Mary's Hall on Friday night of last week. Notwithstanding the heavy downpour of rain a fair representation of delegates was present when President Joseph P. McGinn presided over the session.

Delegates from the various branches of the order were present, and the session was held in a most pleasant and profitable manner.

President McGinn announced his ruling that the State convention would be held next year instead of this year. This is contrary to the ruling of the Supreme Officers.

Several of the delegates said that ill-natured rumors from Illinois, and apparently emanating from a former member, were being circulated to the detriment of the order. It was determined to make an attempt to catch up with the person and put a stop to his silly stories.

ALL WERE PRIMED.

Mackin's Members Had Many Suggestions to Offer.

Mackin Council's hall was thronged Tuesday night when President Robert Burke opened the meeting. It seemed that the majority of those present had valuable suggestions to offer, and from start to finish the business was quite lively.

The report of the Joint Committee of the three Louisville councils was read, and Mackin's members voted to co-operate with that body in its work in arranging for the series of moonlight excursions to be given early in the summer.

BOD STAND.

Cardinal Gibbons Declares That Prohibition Is of No Avail in Cities.

Proclaim High License Will Do More to Promote Temperance.

Men Can Not Be Legislated Into Performing Good Work.

ALL SHOULD UPHOLD TEMPERANCE

His Eminence Cardinal James Gibbons gave an authoritative interview to the Baltimore daily papers last Tuesday. This dignified churchman favors high license, instead of prohibition, as a promoter of temperance.

"The option should under no circumstances apply to this city. I regret to be compelled to return to the subject, but as a citizen and as a churchman who loves his native city, I am profoundly impressed with the sense of its temporal and moral welfare."

"Liquor would be sold here quite as abundantly under prohibition laws as under well regulated license. The consequences will be that liquor will be dispensed contrary to law instead of being sold in secret bottles."

"When a law is flagrantly and habitually violated it brings legislation into contempt. It creates a spirit of deception and hypocrisy and compels men to do insidiously and by stealth what they would otherwise do openly and above board."

"All good men and good citizens are in favor of the virtue of temperance, and I regret to see that the moral side of the question has not been sufficiently considered. You can no legislate men by civil action into the performance of good and righteous deeds."

"We are to improve the morality of our city and make our citizens more temperate, let the virtue of temperance be proclaimed in the churches. Above all, let it be enforced in the family that parents, both by word and example, may inculcate in their children the temperance and spiritual blessings which spring from a life of temperance and sobriety, and let them impress upon their children the terrible consequences of drunkenness."

"We might profitably learn a lesson from the old cities of Europe, which for 2,000 years have been practicing this question. There is not a single city in Great Britain, Ireland or on the Continent which attempts to prohibit by law the sale of liquor. They have learned from a long experience that the best method of regulating this article of commerce is to impose license, to maintain good order for the protection of the citizens and to punish the violators of the law."

"The infliction of fines upon the violators of the law for the first offense and the withdrawal of the license or even imprisonment for subsequent infractions, would be proper punishment."

"The citizens of Floyd county, Indiana, are greatly distressed over the death of Benjamin Johnson, who died in that county on his Saturday night. He had been ill a long time and suffered from uraemic poisoning. The deceased was born in Switzerland sixty-eight years ago, but removed to Floyd county with his family when he was only seven years of age. A widow and six children survive. The funeral took place from Holy Trinity church, of which he was a devout member, Tuesday morning."

"The funeral of John Barle, an old and respected citizen of the West End, took place from St. Anthony's church, Twenty-third and Market streets, Monday morning. The deceased was admitted to an operation at St. Joseph's hospital on Saturday morning and died twelve hours later. Mr. Barle was born in Germany sixty-six years ago, but had spent a great part of his life in Louisville, during the past eighteen years, he had been in the employ of E. K. Klauer & Son, and was well liked by his employers and fellow-workers."

GOV. WILLSON HOME.

Gov. A. E. Willson and his charming wife, who spent last week in Washington and New York, returned to Louisville last Sunday. The following day Gov. Willson went back to Frankfurt, and expects to remain there continuously until the present session of the Legislature closes.

Gov. Willson had a private chat with President Roosevelt while in Washington, but he has not divulged the nature of the conference. During his visit to New York he was the guest of honor at the Lincoln day banquet given under the auspices of the New York Republican Club. He speaks the highest terms of the personality of Gov. Hughes, of New York.

FIRST OF SERIES.

The first of the series of canonizations to be held this year will be that of the venerable Mary Magdalen Pöstel, who founded the order of the Sisters of Mercy in France and first Superior of the order. As usual the ceremonies will take place in the Vatican palace, in the magnificent hall above the entrance to the basilica of St. Peter. The exact date has not been fixed.

IMMENSE

Is Task Begun By the Followers of the Great and Good St. Benedict.

Revision of Vulgate Will Occupy An Extraordinary Lifetime.

Collating and Comparing Early Copies Is Not An Easy Task.

IS PURELY A LABOR OF LOVE

His Holiness Pope Pius X. has confided to the followers of St. Benedict the work of collating and revising the various copies of the Vulgate or official Latin Bible as it was originally given to the church by St. Jerome. This does not mean that the doctrine of the church are to be revised or changed, but that the texts of the various copies of St. Jerome's collection are to be compared and brought to a single standard.

Before the art of writing with pen and ink, the copying was many stories contained in the Old Testament were handed down by tradition. Later they were written in Sanskrit, Greek, Arabic and Latin. The ancient doctors of the church gathered these together, both the Old and New Testaments, and the two together constitute what is known as the Bible.

In those early days, in fact for centuries afterward, there were no movable types, no printing presses. All the copying had to be done with pen and ink. HEINOUS CRIME Charged Against Detective Foster in Affidavit Recently Filed.

Charges of an awful nature were preferred against Detective Robert Foster on Thursday, and affidavits to support the charges have been lodged with the Board of Public Safety. Those cognizant of the facts say that Foster will have a hard time to live his skin and in proving his innocence of the heinous offense charged.

The Kentucky Irish American has been aware for some time that Foster has an unsavory record both at home and abroad. It will come out in the wash, too, and the official records will make very interesting reading. It has been a source of wonder to many persons, even to Republicans, that a creature like Foster found a berth in the police force. Certainly he is not over the protests of Chief of Police Hanger and Capt. Tom Maher. This is the same Foster who attended the negro celebration of Lincoln's birthday, and who while there exploited the great-grandfather of the negro.

Things have attained such a state that it will hardly be possible for the Board of Public Safety to retain Foster in its employ in any capacity. Records, both National and State, are open to the public and the Kentucky Irish American proposes to reproduce as much of them as common decency will allow.

DANCE AND EUCHE.

Given By the Ladies' Auxiliary Was Decided Success.

From every standpoint the eucure and dance given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at Robinson's Hall, Seventeenth and Main streets, Wednesday evening, was a decided social success. A short business session was held previous to the social event. Miss Mary Sheridan, former President of the Auxiliary, and Miss Mary Flynn, of New Albany, were both reported on the sick list.

The three that prevailed did not deter a large crowd from attending the social session. After the eucure game the floor was cleared of tables and chairs and all enjoyed the dance that followed. Old and young joined in the merry mance and for several hours the fun was immense. Many old fashioned Irish reels and quadrilles were among the numbers.

The committee that arranged this pleasant entertainment was made up of Mrs. Dan Dougherty, Mrs. Dora McGinty, Misses Barbara Bowman, Maggie Hourigan and Bridget Harrigan.

POSTPONED

But Home Rule Still Within Sight Says the Irish Leader.

People of Ireland Not Satisfied With Present Measures.

Irish Must Make Their Own Laws Before Content Is Reached.

WHAT JOHN E. REDMOND SAYS

Hon. John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish party in Parliament, is not at all optimistic about achieving home rule for the people of Ireland during the present session of Parliament. At the same time he hopes to obtain some measure of relief in the passage of a new land bill and the university bill. Mr. Redmond says the Irish people will never be contented until they can make their own laws. In a recent interview with the correspondent of a New York daily he was asked: "Do you think that the forthcoming land act and the university bill will bring contentment to Ireland?"

"No," he answered, "nothing will bring contentment to Ireland until the Irish people make their own laws and their own Parliament, and administer those laws under a system subject to Irish popular opinion." The correspondent asked: "Do you think the Government will introduce a strong measure at this session, and if it does, will the House of Lords pass it?"

His answer was: "I hope so. There is a smoldering fire now which may be put out by a just measure of land reform to break up the great depopulated ranches and hasten the creation of a peasant proprietary, reversing in practical form the principle that the land of Ireland must be possessed by the people of Ireland, and possessed at once. But the breaking up of the ranches and the purchase of their holdings by the tenants are checked by legal chicanery and obstruction. No one can foretell what may happen in the future."

"Is Ireland in a seriously disturbed condition now, as we read in the newspapers?" "Undoubtedly," he answered, "more from all serious crime than any country in Europe. For one serious crime committed in Ireland there are ten committed in England for the same population. The English papers manufacture three crimes for the purposes of influencing the public mind in this country against Ireland. The English ruffian murders for money. He sees a man, get change at a public house, follows him and beats his brains out for two shillings and three pence. The Irishman murders to avenge a wrong. He sees a principle—that the land the peasant has reclaimed from the bog, the cabin he has built, and the trees he has planted are his own, subject to the landowner's right to take a rent for his skin and in proving his innocence of the heinous offense charged."

The Kentucky Irish American has been aware for some time that Foster has an unsavory record both at home and abroad. It will come out in the wash, too, and the official records will make very interesting reading. BENEFIT

For Central Committee to Take Place at Hopkin's Theater.

Quite a business stroke was made for the Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America when its sub-committee on entertainment made arrangements for a benefit at Hopkin's Theater, Monday, March 2. The Central Committee is, as it were, a clearing house for all the branches of the Catholic Knights in Louisville, Jeffersonville and New Albany. Since its organization a few years ago it has done yeoman work for the order. Delegates from the various branches meet and compare notes, project plans for increasing membership and give relief to such branches as are in trouble of any kind. It takes the lead in promoting general meetings and otherwise enlightening the public with the aims and objects of the Catholic Knights. Just now the branches in Louisville are preparing to arrange a suitable reception for the delegates to the State convention that is to be held here this year. This will require the expenditure of considerable money, and of course the Central Committee wants to do its part in the entertaining. William M. Higgins, Charles Hill and Capt. Gus Kane, who constitute the sub-committee on entertainment, have made arrangements with E. W. Dustin, the present manager of Hopkins Theater, for a benefit to be held there Monday, March 2. The Crawford Film Company, that has leased the theater, through Mr. Dustin, has acceded to the Central Committee's every courtesy, and has assured them that a special programme of motion pictures will be presented on the occasion of the benefit.

The theater will open at noon and a continuous performance will be given until 11 o'clock at night, so that every Catholic man, woman and child in the three Falls Cities will have an opportunity to attend. It is expected that the house will be filled at least six times on this occasion. Next week the Kentucky Irish American expects to be able to give its readers the entire programme.

Last night the Central Committee held a special session, approved the arrangements made and distributed tickets for the benefit to the delegates from the various branches.

WHAT PAUL SAYS.

Burlingame Tells Chicago Ministers About Sunday Closing.

Sometimes one has to read out-of-town papers to get the real news. Then after you read it all, it is not all really true. For instance, the Chicago Tribune last Sunday, in handling an article in reference to Chicago ministers and the Sunday closing movement, gave us this bit of information: "A letter from Paul Burlingame, Secretary to Mayor Triestadt, of Louisville, placed Mr. Farver and the ministers immensely. It is as follows: 'I wish to say that the closing of the saloons on Sunday in Louisville has resulted in a marked decrease in the number of cases of Sunday closing. It is especially notable that the number of drunken brawls which resulted from the open saloons on Sunday has largely decreased. There is no way in which I am able to arrive at anything like exact figures, but the effect has been widely noted. There is apparently no effect upon the general business of the city, save that the hotels complain of the loss of business which they enjoyed when their bars were open Sunday. The Sunday closing has met with general favor, and it would be next to impossible at this time to induce the people to go back to the old way.'"

One can take the Police Court dockets on Mondays since the Sunday closing law was enacted into effect, and can find that they are just as heavy as before. It is a positive fact that if the Sunday closing law was put to a vote of the Louisville people right now that it would be repealed. This ought to be known to Mr. Burlingame.

CONCERNING TEMPERANCE.

In another column appears an interview from Cardinal Gibbons, in which he declares that prohibition and local option do not promote the cause of temperance. This has always been the contention of the Kentucky Irish American, but the Cardinal puts his views far more succinctly than any layman can hope to do. It is the abuse, not the use, of liquor that is reprehensible. St. Paul tells us that money is the root of all evil. That does not mean that we are not to have money for the necessities of life, but that the abuse of money, the greed in accumulating it, is the great cause of sin in the world. The sale of liquor, properly restricted, will work to the advantage rather than to the disadvantage of mankind.

If half the energy now wasted on local option and prohibition movements were to be devoted to moral reforms, to charity, to combating the extravagance of the rich, to curbing men's greed for money, the world would be far better. Many men will tell you that corporations and trusts are soulless. So they are, but it is men with souls, but who have no regard for their own or other people's souls, who make soulless corporations possible.

There are bound to be combinations of capital. They are one of the necessities of the day; but labor rebels when capitalists become greedy and seek to exact the last drop of blood from those who stand in their way.

When the present prohibition agitators and capitalists are laid away in the grave, when the trust-busters are numbered among the dead, the Catholic church through its Popes, Cardinals, Bishops and priests will continue to proclaim its doctrine of the real brotherhood of man.

POLITICS.

Things political are in a tangle just now in Kentucky. The Legislature has its Senatorial affair, the State at large has its night riders. Louisville has a medley of questions—gas, water, filters, gambling, grafting and Audit Company bills. As they slug in comic opera: "Nobody knows the answer, nobody ever will."

The lamentable death of Representative Virgil McKnight does not appear to have changed the United States Senatorial question any. The effect his death had on one side is offset by the effect it had on the other. The return of Gov. Willson from New York and Washington does not appear to have lessened the danger of invasions from the night riders. True enough, he is sending out troops, but the troops arrive only after the damage has been done. Night riders, like lightning, do not often strike in the same place. The Governor has called for volunteer soldiers from the mountains, but the fellows who were so anxious to show moral support to W. S. Taylor, Caleb Powers and others of that ilk are not hurrying to go to the front now. It is too dangerous.

The proposition to sell the city's stock in the Louisville Gas Company is still receiving a share of attention, and the talk of scandal in connection with the deal continues rife. Men well versed in finance are at the head of the scheme to have the city sell, but for whose benefit? Certainly not for the benefit of the city nor for the private consumers. It is said that the Legislature will be asked to make certain enactments so that the city may sell its shares of the gas stock. Let it once be sold and the people of Louisville can kiss their competitive lighting and heating companies good by.

Readers of the daily papers will see that Mayor Grinstead, who is not a lawyer has been caught in a jam between the opposing contentions of two lawyers, City Attorney A. E. Richards and former Mayor Robert W. Bingham. Mr. Bingham was County Attorney for this county. He was a candidate on the same ticket with ex-Mayor Barth. He made speeches for him, with him and in behalf of himself. After the election he accepted the office and all its emoluments until ousted last summer by the Court of Appeals. After that he had refused the office of Mayor Mr. Bingham accepted it, and at once began to bite and snarl at the people who had made him County Attorney. Later he fell out with the Governor who made him Mayor. Mr. Bingham posed as a reformer, and in his endeavors to betray and overthrow the people who had given him his first political impulses he undertook to spend his own but the people's money. One bill alone, that of the New York Audit Company, calls for an expenditure of $37,000. It was for investigating the affairs of the Louisville Board of Waterworks. The investigation showed that the company's affairs had been admirably conducted. Since then the only development has been that the consumers get less discount than formerly, something that the consumers fail to appreciate.

City Attorney Richards, in his exhaustive report of these matters, shows conclusively that the Mayor and the General Council were acting entirely out of their premises in appropriating money from the year beginning September 1, 1907, to pay for work to be done in the previous fiscal year. But why talk of Mr. Bingham as a reformer? Write or ask Hon. George W. Jolly, City Attorney of Owensboro, what Reformer Bingham has tried to do, and it is still trying to do, in the way of foisting a played out water company on that town. If you are not acquainted with Mr. Jolly write and ask Mayor W. McKnight O'Bryan, of Owensboro.

There are other questions to be asked, but the daily press of Louisville is not making any fuss about answering them. Why was former City Auditor Charles Kounmeyer called back to the City Auditor's office? Was it because his successors had gotten his books into a tangle? Are they not still tangled?

Is it not true that the clerks in City Tax Receiver McCulloch's office got their books into a mess, and was not former Cashier William McKinley called in to help straighten out affairs?

Is it not true that City Comptroller Whitte is wondering "where he is at" since it has been discovered that the scheme to have fortnightly pay rolls in certain departments in the city government is contrary to the charter of Louisville?

Is it true that some of Sheriff Scholl's subordinates are kicking because they feel they are not being paid properly for their services? Is it true that certain of his subordinates have been accused of permitting goods placed in their charge to be spirited away?

Is it true that there are at least four licensed crap games now in progress in the center of the city? Are there not as many more sund-poker games under protection on Main street? Is there a Captain of police who, backed by higher authorities, stands between the "licensed" gamblers and the law?

SOUNDS RIDICULOUS.

There are many Republicans who profess to believe that George B. Cortelyou, Secretary of the United States Treasury, is not only ambitious to become the President of the United States, but that he is even now conducting a campaign for the Republican nomination. It is even said in New York that his cause is being strenuously advanced by Patrick J. McNulty, who stands high in the Ancient Order of Hibernians and in advanced labor circles.

McNulty owns a home in Yonkers, but has made his residence for some time in New York City. He is a power in New York politics, but the New York World's story that "he owns the Irish vote, controls the Catholic vote and could deliver the labor vote to Cortelyou," is utterly ridiculous. The time of owning, controlling and delivering the Irish, Catholic and labor classes is not of the present, if it ever existed. The people, irrespective of race, creed or avocation, are voting for the best men, the men who can accomplish the best results.

If Mr. McNulty is as capable a politician as has been claimed, and as silent as has been announced, he has made no such declaration. The name is a good one, Patrick J. McNulty, and it is an even bet that he is not telling whom nor what he controls.

TRUE PATRIOTISM.

Henry Clay declared, "I would rather be right than be President." That was more than fifty years ago. Now we have another patriot, Gov. Hughes, of New York, who announces that he would rather have his measures for the betterment of the State enacted than to receive the Presidential nomination. This history repeats itself. Gov. Hughes is a high minded patriot, and the stand that he takes convinces the people that he puts public well above personal preference. His utterances show, too, that the spirit of true patriotism is still alive in the United States. It matters not whether he wins or loses the Presidential nomination, his heroic example will be beneficial to the rising generation of Americans, and his name will live long after his body is mouldering in the tomb.

The police in their zeal to catch infractors of the Sunday closing law have taken to invading the private rooms of the wives and daughters of proprietors of saloons. If the Board of Public Safety does not stop the custom there may be a few policemen performed by bullets. No man will stand for the invasion of his home by insolent blackguards.

Today is Washington's birthday, a day that all should celebrate in a manner that would please the Father of our country were he with us now. Though we have become the greatest and best nation the world has ever known, few realize the debt of gratitude we owe to him. Let all do him all the honor they can today.

DEER BROS. REOPEN.

J. C. and J. W. Derr, doing business under the firm name of Deer Bros., reopened their store, situated both on Fourth and Jefferson streets, on Thursday. Their financial difficulties were only temporary and the Messrs. Derr will be glad to greet their old patrons.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS WERE MADE.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Louisville Railway Company was held in the company's office on Jefferson street, near Fourth, Wednesday afternoon, and the former directors and officers were re-elected. The officers included: Thomas J. Minary, President; Alex P. Humphrey, Vice President and General Counsel, and Samuel G. Boyle, Secretary and Treasurer. The Directors are Charles T. Ballard, Harry Bishop, Samuel Casseday, Arthur Cox, Alex H. Davis, Oscar Fenley, H. H. Little, Alex P. Humphrey, T. J. Minary, J. H. Speed and John Stiles.

President Minary presented his annual report, which showed a decrease of $4,490 during the year 1907. This is not surprising when one considers the financial stringency that has swept over the country, causing the close of workshops and factories, thus reducing the number of fares for the street car company. The report also shows that many new cars have been purchased, additional transfers have been granted and many other improvements have been made. The report in full is as follows:

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 19, 1908.—Annual statement of the Louisville Railway Company for the year 1907:

From passengers, city limits	$2,497,467.29
From passengers, interurban	128,125.55
Income from other sources	42,552.92
Total receipts for the year	$2,668,145.76
Operating expenses	$1,551,948.41
Taxes for the year	295,660.00
Interest on debt	308,125.00
Dividend on preferred stock	125,000.00
Net earnings	$487,511.06
From which deduct dividend on common stock	371,737.50
Surplus earnings	$115,773.56
Set aside for accident fund	15,252.92
Balance carried to profit and loss	$100,520.64

For any information as to details we refer to the report of the Secretary and Treasurer and the general balance sheet, which accompanies this report, and will give the business of the company in full for the year, the result being, of course, affected by strikes and general depression in business, but the showing should be entirely satisfactory when compared with the cities that have experienced similar troubles.

During the year the company disposed of, at par, 500 6 per cent. collateral trust notes, secured by 600 second mortgage 4½ per cent. bonds. The proceeds of these notes ($500,000) five hundred thousand dollars, were used to pay for improvements, some of which your attention will be called to in this report.

We have acquired the franchise for double track on Thirty-first and Twenty-ninth streets from High avenue to Bank street, and entered into a contract with the Northern Indiana Traction Company by which their cars from New Albany are to be operated over our tracks from the K. and L. bridge to the terminal station on Third street, between Green and Walnut, and necessary work is now being done and the same will be ready for operation in a few weeks.

The work on the Bardonia road has progressed as rapidly as the conditions would permit, and that portion of the line between the city limits and Fern Creek has been in operation for the past two months.

The extension of the Eighteenth street line from Valley Station to Orell was completed and put in operation on April 15.

The line on Greenwood avenue was double-tracked and extensive terminals built for the White City travel. The Broadway line was also extended from Shawnee Park to White City, with the necessary loop and terminal track at the entrance. The large fill on Payne street was widened and the track doubled for the benefit of the Crescent Hill line. Preston street was double-tracked and the city line extended from Cox avenue to the city limits, where lot was purchased and new loop put in.

Fifty new cars were added to the equipment during the year. These were large double-track cars of the most improved type, equipped with air brakes, heaters and all modern conveniences. These cars were placed on the Second-street, West Broadway, West Chestnut and Crescent Hill lines, replacing the single-track cars that had previously run on these lines.

A new fire proof boiler house was erected and Wilcox & Babcock water tube boilers of 300-horse capacity installed in same, with the latest improved machinery for handling and storing coal.

It is not advisable in a report of this nature to mention in detail the minor improvements, but much has been done during the year toward enlarging and improving the facilities at the car barn, repair shops and other property of the company located at various points; also toward increasing the feed-wire and improving the trucks in many parts of the city. Respectfully submitted for the Board of Directors.

T. J. MINARY, President.

SIGHT VICTORY.
Kentucky Irish American Bowlers Full of Confidence.

The Kentucky Irish American bowling team left for Cincinnati, via the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad, this morning to take part in the eighth annual International tournament of the American Bowling Congress. The members of the team who made the trip are John J. Barry, D. J. Gleason, Thomas M. Barry, Bert Curry, Bernard Flynn, Jr., J. G. Minnegerode, Jr., and Frank P. J. Burke. The team is due to roll at 8 o'clock tonight. Every member is in good shape and is confident of making a fine record. The contest is being held in the Armory building in Cincinnati and the alleys are said to be fine and fast. Last year there were thirty Louisville teams that went to St. Louis and the Kentucky Irish American bowlers rolled in second place. The first five named above will roll, and not only the whole team but all their friends in Louisville expect them to make a better showing than they made last year. Sunday afternoon members of the K. I. A. will roll in the two-men and individual contests. Big delegations from Louisville will leave today and tomorrow to cheer their respective favorites to victory. At the same time many others not interested in bowling are going to Cincinnati on account of the extremely low rates offered by the B. & O. S. W.

QUITE BUSY
Was the Latest Session of Division 4 at Bertrand Hall.

Inclement weather had no terrors for members of Division 4, A. O. H. Monday night, and Bertrand Hall was crowded, much to the gratification of President John H. Hennessy and his fellow officers. Six applications for membership were received, and William A. Perry and John Fitzgibbons were obligated. Michael Vaul, who was on the sick list for several weeks, was reported well. A communication from the Ladies' Auxiliary, announcing a euchre and dance for next Wednesday evening, was received. Many members signified their intention of attending. President Hennessy made formal announcement that a joint initiation was to be held by the four divisions on the night of February 27. He urged a full attendance of Division 4 on that occasion. Guy Thurman, Paul Schell and Frank Sweeney were elected to membership. William J. Connolly resigned from the Visiting Committee and Michael Welsh was appointed in his stead. Col. Joseph P. McGinn made a splendid plea for the reorganization of the Hibernian Rifles, and insisted that every member of Division 4 would make a handsome appearance in military uniform. He urged that the matter be taken up at once. President Hennessy said the matter was worth earnest consideration. He named Col. McGinn and Stephen J. McEllett a committee to work up interest in the movement.

VISITORS WELCOMED.
De Fraine Council Heard Addresses From Mackin's Members.

De Fraine Council, Y. M. L., at Lebanon, Ky., held an important meeting Monday night, and, in addition to transacting important business, heard addresses from John J. Barry, of New Haven, former Supreme Director; Ray Sand, former President of Mackin Council, and his successor, Robert T. Burke. A committee from the council met the visitors at the train and escorted them to the school hall of St. Augustine's church, where they were given seats of honor beside President Arthur Smith. Under the head of good of the order each of the visitors made an address and members of the council did not hesitate to voice their applause. It was found that there was something more than $400 in the treasury. It was decided to divide the greater portion among the twenty-eight members and to allow the remainder to remain as the nucleus for a fund to help entertain the delegates to the Grand Council in August. The visitors were well pleased with their visit and the spirit shown by their hosts. Messrs. Barry and Burke returned to Louisville Tuesday morning, but Mr. Sand spent the entire day in Lebanon.

FOR CHARITY'S SAKE.
A number of well known Catholic ladies and gentlemen have arranged to give a select euchre for a well known charitable purpose Friday afternoon, February 28. All charitably inclined people are invited.

MOTION PICTURES.
Hopkins Theater's Form of Entertainment is Immense.

The "motion pictures" now being produced at Hopkins Theater by the Crawford Film Company of St. Louis, and under the management of E. W. Dustin, have won success in Louisville. They advertise themselves, the first week has done the business, but Louisville audiences are as enthusiastic as any in the United States, and unless the present standard is maintained the success will not last. Mr. Dustin says that he has only started; that each week will see an improvement. Every utterance he has made thus far has been fulfilled. To those who have seen moving picture shows during the past few years the Crawford productions are a revelation. In the first place there is little or none of that glaring, scintillating, jerking light that annoys and tires the eye. The pictures now being presented at Hopkins are quiet and more true to nature. While there is room for improvement the pictures are the best seen here thus far. The pictures displayed this week were entertaining to all, because they portrayed human interest stories. The reproduction of "Francisco de Mendez" was vivid, excellent and of engrossing interest. The patriotic and comedy pictures also evoked much interest and applause. The explanations by Manager Dustin, and the musical numbers both deserve recognition.

HUSTLING MANAGER.
E. J. Kane, the manager of the Purak Works operated by the Merchants' Ice and Cold Storage Company, has already proven to be one of the greatest hustlers that ever came to Louisville. In addition to his natural energy, Mr. Kane brings a thorough knowledge of business to aid in advancing his company's trade. For ten years he traveled for the Liquid Carbonic Company of Chicago, and visited every State in the Union, meeting success everywhere. More than that, he is a practical chemist and is recognized throughout the country as an authority on soda and mineral waters. He removed to Louisville November 1 to assume the management of the Purak works here. Since then he has had no occasion to regret the change. He says the people of Louisville are warm hearted and can always be trusted to buy the best of everything in the market.

THEATRICAL.
Next week's offering at the Masonic Theater will be "Piff, Paff, Puff," its best bill of the season. It is a pleasing musical comedy, and until this year has been seen only at top prices. The company is a large and competent one and big houses will be the order.

Maconley's Theater has quite a nice schedule of attractions for next week. Madame Galski will appear in concert Monday night under the auspices of the Musical Company. Tuesday and Wednesday nights a Yiddish company of actors will hold the boards. Marie Doris, in the "Moral of Marcus" will appear the last half of the week.

DENTIST GOES EAST.
Dr. Thomas J. Welsh, who has for several years been connected with the Louisville Dental Parlor, has gone East to seek a wider field in which to practice his profession of dental surgery. His many friends in Louisville regret his departure, but wish him success in any town he decides to locate.

EUCHRE AND SOCIAL.
The ladies of Kentucky Division 238, G. I. A. to Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Division 78, have arranged to give a euchre and box social at the hall over the South Louisville Bank, corner Fourth and Central avenues, on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, February 25. The game will be called promptly at 2:30 and 8 o'clock. Admission will be only twenty-five cents. The general public is invited.

GREAT THROG
Attended Dedicator Services of Holy Trinity Church.

The handsome new church of Holy Trinity, at Kentucky and Dupuy streets, was solemnly dedicated by the Very Rev. Vicar General Cronin last Sunday morning. The ceremonies were very impressive and were witnessed by several hundred Catholics from the various other parishes, as well as those of the new parish. To add to the solemnity the two companies of the Uniform Rank, Catholic Knights of America, in full uniform and headed by Major Gen. Michael Rehebert and Col. Joseph P. McElhin, participated in the exercises. The Knights made a splendid showing and acted as a guard of honor during the dedicatory services. The ceremonies of blessing the new church began at 9:30 o'clock. This was followed by a solemn high mass with the Rev. Father Peter J. Berresheim, pastor of the new church, as celebrant; the Rev. Father Peter Engelbert, of St. Boniface's convent, deacon of the mass, and Rev. Father Engelbert Schmitt as subdeacon. The Rev. Father Honaventure Cleek, O. F. M., delivered an appropriate sermon in the German language. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the Rev. Father Bachmann, Chaplain at St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum, officiated at vespers and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Tomorrow the different statues in the church will be blessed with appropriate ceremonies.

RADICAL STEPS
For Increasing Membership and Attendance Are Advised.

Division 3, A. O. H., held a rousing session Thursday of last week, and President Patrick T. Sullivan was more than pleased with the interest displayed by all present. James Trester was elected to membership. A communication from the Ladies' Auxiliary advising the members of the euchre and dance to be given next Wednesday evening, brought urgent appeals from President Sullivan and State President Butler for an acceptance of the invitation. It was decided to attend the entertainment and help the auxiliary to make it a success. Patrick Hegley, in behalf of the Visiting Committee, reported Joe Clark and Patrick Kilkenny as improving, and that Thomas Kennedy, who sustained an injury to his knee several weeks ago, as almost entirely recovered. The report of the Auditing Committee showed that Division 3 led all the other divisions in the city from a financial standpoint. It is also crowding toward first place in the race for membership. The application of Thomas F. Owens was received. President Sullivan called attention to the Employment Committee and said there should be more co-operation between such committees of the various divisions. James Coleman, State President Butler, Martin Ford, John Karman and Thomas Quinn offered valuable suggestions tending to secure better attendance at the meetings and toward increasing the membership. Radical steps along with the line were advised, but definite action was postponed until a meeting when a still better attendance will be on hand. President Sullivan and Secretary Lawrence J. Mackey were elected delegates to the Federation of Catholic Societies. The absence of members of the other divisions was noted and caused some disappointment, inasmuch as they had been specially invited to be present.

SPIRITED DEBATE.
Mackin Council's Orators Were Given Rapt Attention.

The new series of debates, under the auspices of Mackin Council, was inaugurated under most favorable auspices last Sunday afternoon, and the club house was crowded with members of the council, who did not hesitate to cheer their favorites at each telling point. Each speaker received his share of applause at the close of his address. The question under debate was: "Resolved, That high license will promote the cause of temperance more than prohibition." Samuel L. Robertson and Judge Patrick T. Sullivan took the forum in the cause of high license, while the champions of prohibition were John Hancock and Austin E. Walsh. The judges of the forensic argument were John Stewart, Shirley Cunniff and Patrick King. The debate continued one hour and thirty minutes, and the large number of members present gave the debaters profound attention. Each speaker had his subject well in hand and their respective arguments were good. The judges decided in favor of prohibition as against high license. The next debate will be held in about two weeks.

RESPECTED HIS WORTH.
Mayor Colby, of Butte, Mont., ordered all public offices closed out of respect to the memory of Daniel J. Hennessy, who was known as "the merchant prince of Montana." His funeral was the largest in the history of the State. Mr. Hennessy was of Irish birth and ancestry and always proud of it.
